

This protection from telemarketers is in the best interest of consumers, not of business. It is about time something is pro-consumer, instead of pro-business. People's privacy and peace should not be compromised with unsolicited and annoying phone calls. I fully support this protection and want to see it continue.